FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE:

REGISTRAR SUPERBOWL I SEMINAR

CHARLESTON -- Eight ISO 9000/QS 9000 registrars will participate in a free seminar and exhibition on Jan. 24 at the Hulman Memorial Union at Indiana State University in Terre Haute.

A panel discussion will take place from 1 to 3 p.m., followed by breakout sessions to individual registrar booths from 3 to 5 p.m.

The seminar and exhibition will offer valuable information and insight into the ISO 9000 and QS 9000 processes. ISO 9000 is a comprehensive set of international standards for quality assurance in manufacturing and service industries. QS 9000 defines the fundamental quality system expectations of Chrysler, Ford, General Motors, truck manufacturers and other subscribing companies.

For further information, call Glenn Gee, West Central Indiana ISO 9000 Network, at (812) 234-0305 or Marilyn DeRuiter, Eastern Illinois University Business and Technology Institute, at (217) 581-2913.
